

I CLAIM:

- 1        1. A personal, mixed salad container comprising:
2                a plastic bag of predetermined dimension;
3                a first sealed compartment within said bag containing
4                a preselected amount of salad;
5                a second compartment within said bag containing a
6                preselected lesser amount of salad dressing;
7                first means for dispensing said salad dressing from 8                said second compartment into said first compartment while said
9                first compartment remains sealed; and 10               second means for opening said first compartment after 11               shaking the mixture therein of said salad and salad dressing.

- 1        2. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2               said plastic bag is of a PET composition.

- 1        3. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2               the ratio of salad to salad dressing within the first and second
3               sealed compartments is of the order of 3-5:1 by weight.

- 1        4. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2               said first sealed compartment contains substantially 1-2 cups of 3               salad.

1           5. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2        said second sealed compartment contains substantially 1-2
3        tablespoons of salad dressing.

1           6. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2        said first sealed compartment contains substantially 8-16 oz. of 3        salad and said second sealed compartment contains substantially
4        3-6 oz. of salad dressing.

5           7. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
6        said first means dispenses said salad dressing upwardly into
7        said first sealed compartment.

1           8. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2        said first means dispenses said salad dressing downwardly into
3        said first sealed compartment.

1           9. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2        said second means includes one of an adhesive and interlocking
3        coupling between opposing top sides of said plastic bag.

1           10. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 9 wherein
2        said first means includes one of an adhesive and interlocking
3        coupling between opposing top sides of said second sealed
4        compartment extending in one of an upward and downward direction
5        into said first sealed compartment.

1           11. The personal mixed salad container of Claim 1 wherein
2        said first means includes a rupturable separation between said
3        first and second compartments rupturable by applied finger
4        pressure.